Dr. Koe back to stay

Elk Point's Physician Recruitment Committee heaved a sigh of relief last week when Dr. Sandy Koe announced she would return to Elk Point and establish a practice. Dr. Koe and her husband, John Kulag, spent a month here late last year to check out the community as a possible location to put down roots.

Dr. Koe will be practicing out of the Elk Point Health Centre for the time being, and plans to set up another office at a later date.

Welcome home, Dr. Koe and Mr. Kulag!

VEGREVILLE MP LEON BENOIT outlined the Reform Party's platform for the next federal election, in which he hopes to represent his party in the new Lakeland riding.

Benoit visits Elk Point on pre-nomination tour

Leon Benoit, Reform Member of Parliament for Vegreville riding, was in Elk Point last Wednesday, visiting with the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce members and speaking at a coffee-time gathering at the Seniors Recreation Centre.

Benoit is seeking the Reform nomination in Lakeland, a new federal riding made up of large portions of both the current Beaver River and Vegreville ridings. Current Beaver River MP Deborah Grey is hoping to represent Edmonton North after the next federal election. "I don't pretend I can fill her shoes," Benoit said, "and I won't try. I know a lot of Reform supporters won't be happy without her." However, he said, "my job is to earn the respect of the voters before voting day."

As the opposition party, Benoit sees Reform's job as being "to critique legislation and offer advice and alternatives to the government." One piece of legislation which has come under their scrutiny is Bill C65, which deals with endangered species. While "we all recognize a need for endangered species legislation," he feels the bill, affecting farmers, ranchers, and people using recreation land, is "heavy handed intervention without regard for the rights of landowners" and needs revision before it is passed, to prevent loss of productivity from huge tracts of land.

The next election, Benoit says "will be about what a federal government should be," including its size, areas of jurisdiction and "how much intrusion in our lives is reasonable."

Benoit feels a smaller government could reduce costs and allow the reduction of taxes, and says his party has a goal of a "$2000 reduction by the year 2000," which would mean $2 to $4 million in this trading area "could stay here to spend as you see fit, rather than the federal government spending it for you." He went on to predict a balanced federal budget by 1997-98, and $10 billion paid against the national debt by the fourth year of a Reform mandate, with another $4 billion going back into health and education.

"The Fathers of Confederation showed wisdom when they wrote the constitution," Benoit acknowledged, "but the federal governments of the past 30 years have taken over too much." He cited the Canada Health Act, in which the federal government agreed to pay half the cost of health care. They are now paying only 21%. Federal transfers to provinces have been reduced $7 billion.

Chamber AGM coming February 5

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce has set their 1997 Annual Meeting for Wednesday, February 5, beginning at 6:30 p.m., and the current executive is hoping that sufficient interest is shown in the meeting to indicate that the Chamber should continue operation.

Last year, just over a quorum was present for the annual meeting, a trend which has continued through the year, and although the Chamber has close to 50 member businesses, many of them have not attended any meetings.

More involvement is definitely needed for the Chamber, otherwise it may be forced to cease activities, which include the annual Canada Day Pancake Breakfast, operation of the Tourist Information Centre, the Christmas Extravaganza, and the Christmas Lighting and Decorating Contest.

Watch next week's issue for further details of the upcoming meeting.

First Night Festival's future questioned

Despite the large and appreciative crowds which attended this year's event, the future of Elk Point's First Night Festival is being questioned, due to the lack of active members for the planning committee.

A maximum of five or six organization representatives, and more often only two or three, were present at the meetings which led up to the Festival, leaving those who did attend with long lists of duties to take care of. Cindy Casper, who chaired the event for both 1995 and 1996, asks "Does the community wish to continue this event? If so, active committee members will be needed for it to take place in 1997."

The community is invited to forward their comments and express their interest to either Margaret Modin at 724-3605 or Cindy Casper at 724-3359.

Storm places second in "A" at Redwater tourney

By Doug Bassett

The girls Midget Storm had a great weekend in a tournament in Redwater, winning all three games in round robin to end up in first place in the tournament. In their first game against St. Albert, the Storm played a close game, winning 2-1. Team captain Kandace Bjornstad opened the scoring halfway through the second period. Late in the second Gwen Lapine scored to make it 2-0 after two periods. The Saints scored one in the third but the determined Storm held on to win.

The Storm took to the ice again at 2:00 p.m. Saturday against the host Redwater Devils. Kandice Bjornstad opened the scoring once more, then added her second of the game. The Devils added two, then Charise Kinneberg scored her first goal of the season to give the Storm the lead once more. The Devils came back with two more, but Gwen Lapine replied for the Storm, scoring the last two, including the winner. Gwen, who normally plays defence, was moved to the forward line in this game in a good move by coach Brian Tucker.

The third game of the round robin was played Saturday at 8:00 p.m. against Calmar. Outstanding goaltending by the Calmar goalie, who was peppered with 42 shots, kept the score 0-0 for most of the game. With 4:02 left in the second period, Janice Derewynka finally scored. The Storm held a one goal lead until 4:03 of the third period when Jena Bassett scored, her first goal of the season. In the final minute of the game Kandice Bjornstad scored a beauty on a breakaway to give the Storm a 3-0 victory and goaltender Alicia Nielsen her second shutout of the season.

On Sunday at 1:00 p.m. the Storm took to the ice in the "A" final against Redwater. Although they outshot the Devils 19 to 12, the Storm lost to the team they had defeated the day before, winning second place in the "A" final in a very respectable game. Way to go, girls!

From the FCSS desk...

Reach out and make a difference!

Each year from February to April, community volunteers, in conjunction with Revenue Canada, offer their services to complete straightforward income tax returns free-of-charge to individuals needing assistance. This service is need-based and is available to individuals whose income levels fall below established thresholds.

The beneficiaries of this service vary from service from seniors to single parents to students and everything in between. What these individuals share is a need for a little assistance to successfully complete their income tax returns. Although many of these individuals may not be taxable, successful and timely completion of an annual tax return is essential as a trigger to various government programs including GSTC, Child Tax Benefit and certain Old Age Security supplements.

Volunteers are as varied as the population they serve. There are no specific requirements to being a volunteer except an understanding of basic mathematical concepts and an interest in helping people in need. The common denominator in the volunteers is the great satisfaction they get from being involved.

Revenue Canada provides the initial training as well as ongoing support to volunteers. Elk Point will host this workshop on Wednesday, February 12, 1997 from 9:00 to 3:00 p.m.

If you are interested in becoming one of these volunteers and are willing to lend a hand to help others with their income tax, call FCSS at 724-3800 for more information or to register. You will be reaching out and it does make a difference.

Extravaganza in retrospect

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce Christmas Extravaganza Committee held their windup meeting last week, to discuss the successes and areas that need improvement for next winter's event.

The outdoor activities were generally well attended, but need some adjustment. The wagon rides were very popular, and it was felt that two wagons would give more children a chance to take part. As well, it was suggested that an adult supervisor should be on each wagon, and that a gate system to load and unload riders for each circuit would be a good idea.

The skating rink is still being enjoyed when weather permits. A form of some sort to contain the water during the first few floodings is needed. The committee wondered if some local group would be willing to take over the preparation and maintenance of the rink in future winters.

The coloring contest needed more time to maximize entries, and this will be taken into consideration next year.

Also needing an earlier start was the silent tree/wreath/swag auction. Some businesses had purchased items, but did not find a club willing to decorate them.

The committee plans to regroup in September to start planning for the 1997 Extravaganza, which has tentatively been set for December 12

Nutrition notes

The sunshine vitamin

By Julia Painchaud

Dietician, Elk Point Health Centre

Vitamin D is a fat soluble vitamin. Natural sources of Vitamin D include liver, egg yolks, fish oils, and butter. Vitamin D is added to milk and margarine to help prevent deficiencies.

Vitamin D is also made in our skin when it is exposed to sunlight, but from October to March production of Vitamin D is limited, due to decreased sun exposure. In the summer it is recommended that sunscreens are used to help prevent skin cancer. Sunscreens inhibit the body from making Vitamin D, but it only takes 15 minutes of sun exposure per day to produce enough Vitamin D, therefore it is not necessary to go for hours without protection from the sun.

FUNCTION: Vitamin D increases the absorption of calcium and phosphorus from the digestive tract, releases calcium from bones and decreases calcium and phosphorus excretion in the urine.

TOXICITY: Because Vitamin D is a fat soluble vitamin, it is stored in the liver and fat tissues in the body.

Toxic levels can build up if too much Vitamin D is eaten (from food or supplements). Too much Vitamin D causes calcium to be deposited in soft tissues such as kidneys and lungs.

DEFICIENCY: In children, Vitamin D deficiency is seen as Rickets. Rickets is quite uncommon now due to fortification. In adults, Vitamin D deficiency results in osteomalacia or "soft bones" and has been linked with the development of osteoporosis. People at risk for Vitamin D deficiency are elderly people who spend limited time outside. Many elderly people have poor intakes of Vitamin D-rich foods.

Consuming a variety of foods every day and following Canada's Food Guide will help to get enough Vitamin D. Recommended intake of Vitamin D is 400 IU (International Units) per day. One cup of milk provides 100 IU. Canada's Food Guide recommends 2 to 4 servings of milk products per day which would help to meet Vitamin D needs.

Sky Watch

By Lois Ramer

Today, we'll talk and think about comets... an object which astronomers believe resembles a dirty snowball which is formed in the cold comet distant regions of the solar system. Frozen gases and ice mixed with dust likely make up the contents of this nucleus of a comet. Our friend, Mr. Hale-Bopp, is beginning to show himself with a coma approximately 2.4 million kilometres wide, very low and faint in the eastern morning skies. The sun's glare, cloud banks, ice fog, and trees can obstruct a clear view of the comet at this time. The morning brightness of the comet will improve greatly in February.

The morning of February 4 through February 18 will be a good time to get serious about catching Hale-Bopp. There will be no moonlight and the comet will be roughly 20 degrees above the eastern horizon 90 minutes before sunrise. By March and April and continuing into June, Hale-Bopp will be very visible and possibly very bright, barring cloud covers, in the northwest at dusk. It just might be sighted above the St. Paul UFO landing pad. Eeeeeek!

Speaking of a UFO... if you have access to the internet and enter in <http://www.sun-sentinel.com/new/comet.htm> you'll likely find a reference made to an invading alien spacecraft four times the size of Earth closing in on our planet behind a huge, brilliant comet. (Michael Cabbage/staff writer) Since comet Hale-Bopp was discovered in July 1995, wild reports have flooded into the internet, been heard on Canadian talk shows and discussed among UFO aficionados (affection for).

Some reports state that a "Saturn-similar object" is behind Hale-Bopp, guiding it to Earth.

Mr. Hale, the New Mexican astronomer who discovered the comet, is annoyed by this type of report and exasperatingly states "the alien spacecraft is not more than a bright star that was close to the comet one night, but the stories refuse to die." Someone has commented that those that fear the presence of Hale-Bopp may miss our Creator's best light show in years. Scientists easily determined the star image referred to by some as an alien spacecraft indeed was a distorted photo of a star... designated SA0141894.

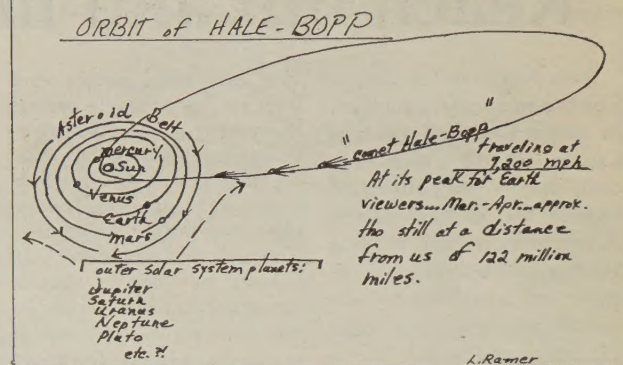

If you wish to believe the 'alien' report, INVADE-O brand anti-abduction cover blankets to keep away the little green men can be purchased from an Alien Visitor Supply Centre in the USA. I will be in the eastern USA in a few weeks and could possibly find you one.

A big "thank you" to Mr. Pidluzny, for the internet information.

Now let's take a look at a visual sketch of Hale-Bopp and its orbit.

During January and February, this comet's distance from earth is approximately 225 million kilometres. By April 1, (God willing, I say) its distance from us will be a significant 200 million kilometres, far more remote than last summer's brilliant comet Hyakutake's closest approach.

Yet Mr. Hale-Bopp is the largest comet to reach our inner solar system since 1577... says a comet expert. The peanut-shaped nucleus of Halley's Comet is 9 km wide in comparison to

HALE-BOPP'S ORBIT

Hale-Bopp's estimated nucleus of 25 to 65 km in diameter.

Several more interesting facts about Hale-Bopp:

1. Hale-Bopp is speeding through our part of the galaxy in an egg-shaped orbit at more than 7200 mph.

2. Halley's Comet orbits the sun every 76 years. The last time Hale-Bopp visited, the pharaohs were building the first pyramid in Egypt.

3. The comet will make its closest approach to earth... 122 million miles, or about 500 times farther away than our moon, on March 22.

In closing for this month, a few comments by Jack Horkheimer, director of the Miami Planetarium. He says "the comet will be magnificent for professional stargazers but, as always, a possible disappointment for non-astronomers."

"All comets in the 20th century are duds for the layperson," Horkheimer says. "City lighting has wiped them out and what nature provides has been surpassed by our culture with TV and film. Our technology has cheated us out of the appreciation of the night sky and its natural wonders."

Thunder wins over Edam

By Doug Bassett

Friday night the Turtleford Tigers rolled into town and beat the Thunder big time. The Tigers scored in the first minute of play and never looked back, scoring five more before it was all over. The only goal for the Thunder came with 4:53 remaining in the game. Brad Pankiw beat the goalie with a backhand, spoiling his shutout.

On Saturday afternoon the Thunder boarded the bus for Edam, SK with only 11 skaters but came out on top 5-4, winning for the first time in three weeks. Brad Pankiw opened the scoring. Loren Kozicky gave the Thunder a two goal lead. Edam tied the game before captain Marty Bendixen scored on a slapshot. Rocky Pankiw gave the Thunder another two goal lead. Edam closed the gap but defenceman Neil Kozicky took the puck and scored on a breakaway to give the Thunder the first win in five games.

Interagency task force sets committee goals

Elk Point Interagency's Task Force has set four goals for the establishment of an Interagency Health Committee. The force, consisting of Deanna Easthope, Barb Kaufman, Sid Holthe and Jim MacLellan, will make a presentation to the Community Health Council when they meet in Elk Point on February 6. They also plan to contact a long list of agencies, make personal presentations to them regarding the value of an Interagency Health Committee, and invite them to an organizational meeting prior to the end of April. They hope to have the committee up and running by the end of June.

Elk Point Interagency discussed their own terms of reference at their January 14 meeting, and will be reviewing them further at the February meeting.

The meeting heard presentations from Clare Gauvreau of the St. Paul Tobacco Reduction Program, and Dianne Tharp of Lakeland Safety First.

Agency updates:

Elk Point Health Centre was still waiting to hear from Dr. Sandy Koe regarding her decision whether to establish a practice here. The Community Health Council is having a public meeting in Elk Point on February 6. That is also the date that the Lakeland Regional Health Authority's new CEO, Bill Bell, will be touring Elk Point's health facilities and meeting with Town Council.

The Seniors Centre has been busy, with 5 funerals in 14 days. A good member has been lost in Norm Hartley. The Seniors Wellness Clinics are well attended, with a speaker on foot care at the December meeting.

The First Night Festival is still being evaluated, with the lack of volunteers to plan the event a major concern.

Chamber of Commerce Annual General Meeting is February 5 at 6:30 p.m., everyone welcome.

St. Paul Host Family is training one Host Family at present.

County of St. Paul FCSS is evaluating their 1996 programs, and are very pleased with the results of some of the new programs. One of the Teen Moms is graduating in February.

Victim Services, along with Elk Point RCMP, have scheduled a Seniors Safety information session for the Seniors Wellness Clinic on January 22.

AADAC is very busy with staff away on holidays.

Straight From The Heart will be busy in February, which is Heart Month, with heart health information on Radio CHLW and a low-fat pyrohy supper in conjunction with the Ukrainian Cultural Centre ladies.

Elk Point Baptist Church is holding their annual curling funspiel on March 1.

Elk Point FCSS were hosting a financial planning workshop on January 25 and February 1.

New business included a suggestion for a teen workshop focusing on self esteem. The group felt there were other people within the community who could better deal with planning this type of activity, and a number of names of possible contacts were put forward.

The next Interagency meeting is scheduled for February 4 at 11 a.m.

Elk Point student awarded U of A Chancellor's scholarship

Christina Sereda, a 1996 graduate of F. G. Miller High School last year, was awarded one of the most prestigious scholarships offered by the University of Alberta. Christina was presented a Chancellor's Citation scholarship, valued at $15,000, and offered only to the top students in the country.

A highlight of Christina's Chancellor's Citation award will be attending a special informal dinner hosted by the President and Chancellor on February 14th. Christina will be joined by her fellow major scholarship recipients who will share their first year experiences with their hosts. Later that evening, she will be among the special guests of the University of Alberta Golden Bears and Pandas basketball teams.

Christina is in her first year at the University of Alberta and is studying in the Faculty of Science. Her outstanding academic and extracurricular achievements were cited as the reason for being chosen a recipient of the scholarship. In addition to the Chancellor's Citation, Christina was also presented with a Faculty of Science Entrance Scholarship and a Henry Kreisel Memorial

Christina Sereda

Honors Scholarship. This is the first year for the Chancellor's Citation Scholarships and it is one of only two new major monetary scholarships being offered outstanding students by the University of Alberta. The President's Citation, valued at $25,000, is the other major scholarship. There are only 7 President's and 15 Chancellor's Citation scholarships offered by the University.

Honors Scholarship.

The prestige of the scholarships is evidenced by the fact that both President Rod Fraser and Chancellor Lou Hyndman personally called each student offered one of the inaugural scholarships, being the first to tell them that they have been chosen to receive the award. The President or Chancellor then explained the scholarship and briefly introduced the extraordinary benefits of a University of Alberta education.

4-H leaders are "Going Places"

Lorraine Danyluk and Gail Havener of the Elk Point 4-H Multi Club and Marion Ryan and Rhonda Osinchuk of the Elk Point Saddle Slickers joined over 300 4-H volunteer leaders from across Alberta and guests from the four western provinces and Montana at the 1997 Alberta 4-H Leaders Conference.

Leaders travelled to Red Deer for a busy weekend of fun and learning, January 10-12, 1997. Following the theme of "Going Places with 4-H," sessions were designed for both new and experienced leaders. "The variety of topics helped leaders increase their knowledge of the 4-H program and will enable them to work with youth more effectively," says Penny Wilkes, Leadership Specialist with the Home Economics and 4-H Branch of Alberta Agriculture, Food and Rural Development. "The conference is a great opportunity for leaders to learn from each other and to share successes," says Kathy Hougham, co-chair of the conference planning committee. The keynote speaker, Brenda Robinson, discussed how to actively manage change. She challenged delegates to look at their own reactions to change.

A highlight of the weekend was induction of Gordon Furr of Morinville, and Shirley Story of Sherwood Park (posthumous) to the 4-H Hall of Fame.

This was the 55th annual Alberta 4-H Leaders Conference. Major program sponsors are Alberta Pool, United Grain Growers, Lammle's Western Wear, and Alberta Agriculture, Food and Rural Development. There are also numerous other supporters of the program, including the Alberta Oat Producers, Monsanto, Alberta Cattle Commission, Dairyworld, Atco, Petro Canada, Lavesta 4-H Club, Alberta 4-H Council, Camrose 4-H district council, Lacombe 4-H district council. The partnership of both government and industry allows 4-H to continue to flourish, and facilitates training functions such as this.

What's news at the library?

Come try the World Book on CD-ROM!

By Michele Duczek

Librarian

The Library has just received the latest edition of the World Book encyclopedia in both print and CD-ROM form. Anyone who would like to try the CD-ROM version this week is welcome to come to the library and play around with it.

The arrival of the new encyclopedia means that we have an older version (1983) available for sale for the low price of $50. It's practically an antique.

Other new arrivals at the library include:

The crew on the Enterprise find themselves facing two missions as a mysterious disease threatens a recent ally of the Federation and a renegade Federation observer disappears, intent on violating the Prime Directive in The Death of Princes by John Peel from Star Trek: The Next Generation.

Three soldiers discover intrigue and danger while on assignment in 1943 Buenos Aires in Blood and Honor by W. E. B. Griffin, a follow-up to his previous novel, Honor Bound.

When Milo asks Alex to help him investigate the murder of a celebrity author and pop psychologist, the two discover there were very real shadows in her life that could have led to her death in The Clinic by Jonathan Kellerman.

The murder of a high school girl reunites friends torn apart by a similar murder years earlier in Silent Witness by Richard North Patterson.

Jim Chee and a retired Joe Leaphorn look into the mysterious death of a man on a remote mountain in The Fallen Man by Tony Hillerman.

Patricia Cornwell reveals the heart and soul of a metropolitan police department in Hornet's Nest.

And in nonfiction we have this topical offering:

Former soldier Scott Taylor and veteran author Brian Nolan present a picture of crime and corruption in the highest levels of the Canadian military in Tarnished Brass: Crime and Corruption in the Canadian Military.

And for the younger set we have some new titles in our juvenile series:

Elizabeth's advice column seems to be causing problems rather than solving them in Elizabeth Solves It All from Sweet Valley Twins.

Bruce Patman's family history is revealed in The Patmans of Sweet Valley, a Sweet Valley Saga.

Frank and Joe travel to Germany and become caught up in a mystery involving a missing archaeologist in The Emperor's Shield from the Hardy Boys Casefiles.

Benoit visits

Reform "recognizes the family as a top priority," Benoit said, with the need for a sustainable plan to alleviate child poverty, and a refundable tax credit in cheque form for low income families. Justice also needs changing so that the top priority is the protection of citizens. "The victim's rights are more important than the rights of criminals," he stated.

Increasing internal trade for a "less risky economy," a two-track approach to national unity and cuts to regional economic development were other suggestions for a "fresh start," Benoit said. However, Reform would not replace the GST in their first mandate, preferring to "make the system simpler and move to a flat tax system later."

NEW INITIATES -- Elk Point Order of Royal Purple's Honored Royal Lady Adaline Zenko welcomed two new initiates, Donna Yaremkevich (left) and Karen Stafford, at the OORP's January meeting.
